NUMB. 3194

MONDAY, MAY 28, 1744.

...our last arriv'd the Mail from France, another from Holland, and all that were due from Flanders.

Conſtantinople, April 4.

AT length the War is declar'd in Form againſt Perſia; and the late Grand Vizir is appointed Seraskier, or Commander in Chief, of the Troops in Aſia. We are occupied ſufficiently in providing for the carrying on the War with Vigour abroad, at the ſame Time that we have much ado to preſerve ...ce at Home; the People of this City in general be... abſolutely diſaffected. The preſent Grand Vizir has ...de many Examples, and is daily putting ſome or other ...the Malecontents to Death, but to very little Purpoſe. ...ſtill ſuſpect ſome ſecret Correſpondence between ...Ruſſians and the Shah Nadir; unluckily for us, a very ...ody Struggle has happen'd between the Subjects of ...Porte and thoſe of the Czarina, on the Frontiers of ...m Tartary, in relation to certain Salt Pits. We con...e to pay the utmoſt Reſpect to the Queen of Hun...y's Miniſter; and it is but a few Days ago that he ...ained Leave to raiſe Troops in any of the Dominions ...the Porte, bordering upon thoſe of the Queen, his ...treſs.

Madrid, May 11. The Biſhop of Rennes, Ambaſſador ...m his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, received, on the 5th, ...Courier from his Court, and immediately demanded ...Audience of their Majeſties, in order to know if it ...uld be agreeable to them, that the Duke de Richlieu ...uld come hither to demand the Infanta Maria-Tereſa; ...which their Majeſties anſwer'd, That whoever was ...thither by the moſt Chriſtian King on that Ac...nt, would be extremely welcome. Immediately ...his Excellency went to the Apartment of the In...a, to whom he communicated his Buſineſs, kiſs'd ...Hand at his Departure, and gave her the Title of ...phineſs. When her Royal Highneſs went to wait ...the Queen at her Toilet, their Majeſties, and the ...of the Court, gave her the Title of Dauphineſs; ...ſhe had a Stool ſet for her, as is uſual for Princeſſes ...en they are married. The next Morning ſhe received ...Compliments of the whole Court. It is believ'd, ...the Marquis de Villena, Grandee of Spain, will be ...pointed to conduct that Princeſs to the Frontiers. The ...nch Ambaſſador lately preſented the Conde de Mon..., in the Name of the King his Maſter, his Majeſty's ...ture ſet with Diamonds, to the amount of 40,000 ...res. On the 7th of this Month five Ships of our ...dron at Carthagena ſailed for Toulon, under the ...mand of M. de Hauteville, who commands in the ...n of M. Navarro; and the other Six are to follow ..., as ſoon as they are ſufficiently repair'd.

Genoa, May 10. According to the laſt Advices from ...lifranca, a Detachment from the combined Army has ...en Poſſeſſion of Mount Fineſtre, beyond Entragues, ...tween Coni and the Col. de Tende; another has ad...nced from Pigna, as far as Soſpelle; and a Third is at ...oline; ſo that the Piedmonteſe will find themſelves ...der an inevitable Neceſſity either of quitting the Col. ...Tende, or reſolving to defend themſelves there, againſt ...ree Attacks at once.

Ferrara, May 16. Yeſterday a Courier from Prince ...obkowitz's Army paſſed thro' this City, by whom we ...derſtand, that his Highneſs intends to march by the ...y of Perugia into Tuſcany, in order the more rea...y to ſuccour the King of Sardinia, in caſe of any ...cident. This News ſurprizes and alarms us, becauſe ...e were in Hopes, that the War would have been im...ediately transferred from Lombardy to the Kingdom ...Naples, whereas it ſeems to be returning on us now ...th double Violence; ſince it cannot be doubted, that ...Majeſty of the Two Sicilies, and the Duke of Mo..., will likewiſe return into the Eccleſiaſtical State; ...hich muſt abſolutely complete the Ruin of theſe Coun...ries, which are, in a manner, already quite exhauſted.

Vienna, May 20. Letters from Paris affirm, that the ...rince of Conti had cantoned his Troops, in Deſpair of ...aking any Progreſs, unleſs reinforc'd by 10,000 Men, ...hich the Court of Verſailles deſpaired as much of fur...ſhing him with, unleſs they were drawn from the ...rmy on the Rhine, which was thought to be impracticable.

Vienna, May 23. The Cardinal Archbiſhop of this ...ity has publiſhed an Edict, directing ſolemn Prayers to ...od for a Bleſſing on her Majeſty's Arms, during the preſent Campaign. It is ſaid, that the Conſpiracies diſcovered here is not of ſo dangerous a Nature as it was firſt repreſented; ſeveral Perſons, however, have been lately arreſted, and ſuch Foreigners as cannot ſhew very good Reaſon for remaining here, have Orders to quit this Capital immediately.

Franckfort, May 27. His Imperial Majeſty is again very ill of the Gout. We have certain Intelligence, that the French Army is not near ſo ſtrong, and in ſo good Condition, as was reported; and that of the Queen of Hungary will infallibly paſs the Rhine at Manheim. The Imperial and Auſtrian Armies continue to obſerve an exact Neutrality towards each other. We know not what to think here of the preſent Situation of Affairs, but from various Circumſtances, it ſeems probable, that the Harmony between this Court and that of Berlin, does not in the leaſt diminiſh.

Paris, May 29. There arriv'd laſt Night an Expreſs from the Prince of Conti, who ſet out again this Morning for the Army. He ſays, he is charged with very good News; but refuſed to communicate any of the Particulars farther, than that a great Supply of Ammunition and Proviſions, on board 35 Tranſports, were ſafely arriv'd in Villafranca from Toulon. The Count de Maurepas arrived at the laſt mentioned Port on the 23d, where he is to give the laſt Orders for executing an Expedition of the utmoſt Importance; at leaſt, ſo the Courtiers ſay; but ſome Politicians ſuſpect, that he is going farther than Toulon, and that his Commiſſion has a Reference to Peace as well as War. To-morrow the Princeſs of Conti and the Ducheſs of Chartres ſet out for Flanders. An Expreſs this Moment arrived from Liſle brings us an Account, that the King had abſolutely refus'd to conſent to a Ceſſation of Arms for three Weeks, which had been propoſed by the Count de Waſſnaer; who, upon that, had intimated, that he might ſoon be obliged to make a leſs agreeable Propoſal. To which the King anſwered; Your Excellency may purſue your Inſtructions, as I will my Intentions.

Actions 1955.

Bruſſels, May 21. The Duke of Aremberg is to have the Command in Chief of the Army of the Allies, which conſiſts of the following Forces, viz. 10 Battalions, five Squadrons of Auſtrians, 30 Squadrons, 20 Battalions of Engliſh, 32 Squadrons, 14 Battalions of Hanoverians, 17 Squadrons, ſix Battalions of Dutch; in all 89 Squadrons, 45 Battalions; each Squadron of 150, each Battalion of 750 ſtrong; ſo that the Horſe conſiſts of 13,350, the Foot of 33,750, making together 47,100 Men; to which we muſt add eight Companies of Auſtrian Grenadiers, and other Irregular Troops, to the Number of 8000 Men; ſo that the real Strength of the Allies, conſiſts of 55,100 Men. It is true that the French are actually 100,000 ſtrong; but notwithſtanding this, the Allies continue their March towards the Scheld, and perſiſt in their Reſolution of giving the Enemy Battle. The Deſertion from the French Troops is prodigious; which is the leſs to be wonder'd at, conſidering that at leaſt One-third of their Army is compoſed of raw Troops. The Governor of Luxembourg, Marſhal Count Neiperg, and Marſhal Belleiſle, who commands in the Three Biſhopricks for his moſt Chriſtan Majeſty, have concluded a Concordat for preſerving their reſpective Governments from being ravaged by Parties of Huſſars on either Side, during the Courſe of the preſent War. The French raiſe prodigious Contributions throughout all Flanders.

Hague, May 29. This Day we received Advice from Aurick, that the Prince of Ooſt-Friſe died there in the Night, between the 25th and 26th Inſtant, after a ſhort Indiſpoſition. Since the Wind is come to the Weſt, ſome of the Men of War that are fitting out at Amſterdam have got over the Pampus; and, if the Weather continues a few Days as it is at preſent, it is hoped the reſt may be able to follow. The Advices from Flanders, that came in To-day, bring nothing particular, but that Count Saxe, who had ſeized the Poſt of Pont-Eſpierres, was ſaid to be fortifying himſelf there. Letters from Hailbron mention, that Prince Charles joined the Army there on the 19th, and found it in very good Order, and eager for Action. General Bernclau has already paſſed the Necker, and was advanced to Eppingen; and it was thought his Highneſs would proceed with his whole Army, as ſoon as poſſible, down to the Rhine; the Paſſage of which River the French and Imperialiſts ſeem'd preparing to diſpute with him.

HOME PORTS.

Dover, May 25. Wind W. S. W. Arrived the Johanna, Rice, from Carolina; and the St. Anthony, Cook, from Liſbon.

Deal, May 25. Wind S. and by E. Remain the Hampton Court, Dreadnought, and Cheſter Men of War; the Benjamin, Way, for Eaſt-India; with the reſt of the Outward-bound, as per laſt. Arrived from Newcaſtle the following Veſſels; viz. the Peggy, Thompſon, for Oporto; the New Recovery, Trittam, the John and Jane, Thompſon, and the Katherine, Barton, all for Portſmouth. Came down the Friendſhip, Parry, for Liverpool; and the Lamb, Johnſon, from Portſmouth.

Arrived

At Briſtol, the Eagle, Hollings, from Jamaica.

At Plymouth, the Antigua Packet, Leſley, from Antigua. 'A Paſſenger landed out of her at Plymouth 'brings certain Advice, that his Majeſty's Ship the Woolwich has taken, and carried into Barbados, the 3d of 'April, a very rich Spaniſh Ship from Cadiz, for La 'Vera Cruz.'

LONDON.

The 23d of June, O. S. is ſaid to be the Day fix'd for the Celebration of the Marriage between his Imperial Highneſs, the Grand Duke of Ruſſia, and the young Princeſs of Anhalt Zerbſt; on which Occaſion, it is ſaid, the Duke of Brunſwick will be diſcharged from his Confinement.

The Biſhop of Rennes, Ambaſſador from the French King to the Court of Madrid, having invited the Marquis de la Enſenada, the Spaniſh Prime Miniſter, to a grand Entertainment which he gave, on Account of the Marriage of the Infanta with the Dauphine; the Marquis ſent him Word, he never eat but with his Friends. Theſe two Miniſters quarrel'ed as they returned in the Marquis's Coach from the Eſcurial, and have never ſpoke to each other ſince.

The Trenches were opened before Menin on the 19th, O. S. and the French carry on the Siege by two Attacks; the one commanded by the M. Count de Saxe, which by the 22d was advanc'd as far as the Paliſadoes; the other by the M. de Fenelon, which was within a Hundred Yards of them. There have been a prodigious Number of Men kill'd, chiefly of the Peaſants, who were driven by Force into the Trenches; but the French, however, flatter themſelves, that they ſhall be able to take the Place in a few Days.

According to ſome private Letters from Flanders, a Body of French Troops having taken Poſt on the Canal of Bruges, have cut off all Communication between that City and Ghent; and the ſame Letters ſay, that the Duke de Harcourt is in full March, with a Body of 30,000 Men, towards Oſtend; both which Pieces of News, perhaps, ſtand in need of Confirmation.

They write from Emden, that the Death of the Prince of Eaſt-Friezland, which happened on the 26th at Aurich, has thrown them into the utmoſt Conſternation; the Troops of his Pruſſian Majeſty being already in Motion, having taken down the Arms of the deceas'd Prince in many Places, and ſet up thoſe of his Majeſty. Our Governor has doubled his Guard, and taken every other Step that was judged neceſſary to prevent a Surprize.

They write from Rome, that The Jewiſh Letters, The Hiſtory of the Devil, and ſome other Books of that Sort, have been actually burnt there, in Virtue of a Proclamation; by which it is declared, That whoever ſhall preſume to read ſo much as a Page in any of theſe Heretical Books, ſhall incur the greater Excommunication ipſo facto.

There have happen'd ſeveral Rencounters between the Auſtrian Huſſars and the French Dragoons, in which the latter have always had the worſt; they have likewiſe loſt a great Quantity of Forage and Proviſions, which they had amaſs'd in the Neighbourhood of Ghent, and intended to have carried to Courtray. It is alſo ſaid, that the French had laid a Scheme for taking Oudenard by Surprize; in which they muſt have undobtedly ſucceeded, but for a Party of Huſſars, who held the Cavalry in their Van in Diſpute, till they ſent Notice of their Advance to the Governor of the Town.
